THE EXPOSITION.

FACTS AND INCIDENTS OF THE DAY NOTED.

Interesting Address by Prof. Riley on the Cotton Plant's Enemies—Efforts Being Made to Secure the Minerals and Woods Exhibit for Mississippi—Notes of Interest.

The attendance at the exposition yesterday was in every way satisfactory, and indicated a decided increase from along the lines of railroads reaching this city. The reduced rates on the roads will result, in a very few days, in a heavy daily attendance from the whole of north and middle Georgia, Tennessee and the Carolinas. Persons already here from those sections and states report a general awakening of interest in the exposition, and that all the people who have the means and time to spare will certainly attend the show. It has taken the whole of the month of October for the press of the country to really convince the people of the grandeur and complete character of the exhibition. Now, that the facts are fully apprehended and believed, there is little doubt but that natural curiosity, if not real interest in the material development of the country, will at once attract many thousands of visitors to the exposition.

Distinguished Observers.

There were a number of distinguished gentlemen, in all branches of life, on the grounds yesterday, including notably the gentlemen from Boston, under the guidance of Mr. E. B. Haskell, of the Boston Herald. Hon. Edward Atkinson also continued his examination of the various departments of the exhibition, and was gathering abundant material for many suggestive articles, doubtless. There are few more careful observers and original thinkers in America than Mr. Atkinson, and no one capable of giving to the public through the press more intelligent and practical estimates of the special devices and machines shown in the exhibition, and of the general influences and effects of the exposition. Mr. Atkinson was unable to accompany his colleagues to Augusta, but wrote instead a handsome letter of regrets.

Governor Brown on Rates.

Speaking of Governor Brown's interest in the success of the exposition, it is worthy of mention that he is responding promptly and liberally to the demand for cheap transportation to the exhibition and return, so far as his powers and influence go. Referring to the matter yesterday, he said:

"I know that those nominal rates are not business rates for the roads, but in my judgment it is for the best interests of the people of Georgia that they should attend this exposition. I feel, therefore, that it is the true policy for the railroads to bring the people here—even if they do not make a cent from the passengers."

This is characteristic of Senator Brown and we trust his views will be fully shared by his associates in the railway circles of the south.

Dr. Loring's Exhibit.

TO SECURE THE EXHIBIT OF MINERALS AND WOODS. Dr. George B. Loring, United States commissioner of agriculture, yesterday at noon met a number of the gentlemen representing the railroad exhibits and the exhibits of minerals and woods. His object was to consult with them on the idea of transferring the splendid collection of minerals and wood specimens now in the railroad building, at the close of the exposition, to the National museum at Washington city. He is specially desirous of accomplishing this purpose, but how the railroad men will respond is yet to be developed.

Mr. Thomas Fry, Jr., who has been here some days, left for his home in Boston yesterday. He hastened his departure with the view of inducing the Massachusetts institute of technology, of which Hon. Francis A. Walker has just been made president, to negotiate for the same display. He hopes to be able to purchase the specimens outright and lodge them in the museum of the institute. On the other hand we are apprised that efforts will be made to keep the bulk of this unrivaled exhibit in Atlanta. We should be glad to note an earnest and persistent effort made to this end. Our city is the proper place for such valuable and significant indicia of the crude wealth of the south.

Georgia's Exhibit.

Is now complete and reflects great honor on the state. It was prepared through the enterprise of Judge Henderson and his assistants. There are a great many specimens of the agriculture, wealth of Georgia and of its mineral resources. The display of cotton is beautiful, showing what the "old red hills of Georgia" can do under proper treatment of brain and muscle.

Exposition Notes.

The frost killed the tender shrubbery about the grounds.

The procession of the prize cattle was quite an attractive show and was witnessed by every one on the grounds.

Do not forget to leave a contribution at the office of the Garfield memorial fund, in the main building.

Captain Charles T. Sabin, chief of engineering and machinery, has gone north for a few weeks of rest.

The Norfolk and Western road has sent a gentleman from Philadelphia to arrange its display. When fully placed it will be one of the most attractive in the building.

Music for the entertainment of the public is sadly needed upon the grounds.

Colonel Tom Howard was charmed with Professor Riley's address. He wants to build a monument to the professor as a reward for his labors in the interest of cotton-plant protection.

Card collecting in the exposition has grown to be a contagious mania among the visitors.

The gate receipts are gradually growing better and are expected to rise rapidly after Monday night.

The nipping weather has raised a cry for heating apparatus in the several buildings not yet provided with steam pipes.

The Cattle.

Continued to attract attention yesterday. The fact that the awards had been made seemed to not lessen the interest in this feature of the great show. Thoroughbreds are becoming common in the south. Around Atlanta there are over one hundred Jersey herds, a number of Devon and other cattle. Quite a number were sold from the superb display made this week and at very reasonable prices. The first of the special weekly shows of the exposition has been a success. The others are to follow with excellent prospects.

Professor Riley's Lecture.

No better complement could have been paid to Professor Riley yesterday than the attendance upon his lecture, and the close attention given to it at a time when there were so many other attractions on the grounds. The lecture was illustrated by enlarged diagrams, and many good things were said that are not in the written address, for he has a way of treating an otherwise technical subject so as to interest and instruct all. At the close of the address the planters examined the machinery the professor has on exhibition, in a body, and there were general expressions of amazement at its simplicity and effectiveness. They then reconvened and had a most instructive, practical discussion, of which we hope to give a report at another time.

Coming Excursions.

Will make next week the liveliest yet known to the exposition. There are evidences of a general attack by our neighbors and the steady stream of visitors from the north will continue.

The Southern Cotton Mills Are making a good showing, both of their practical operations and the possible perfection which may be attained in this, the land of cotton, where it may be carried to its best perfection both in growth and fabric.

What the Papers Say.

Nashville World.

This exposition should not fall on account of a lack of patronage from the southern people, for whose special benefit it was originated. However, it is most too early now, when the wintry winds begin to touch them, our people will begin to direct their footsteps toward Atlanta.

McDuffie Journal.

At present, although the great exposition is complete and in full operation in Atlanta, the passenger trains on the Georgia road pass our town comparatively empty. But if the fare is reduced to one cent per mile, nearly every man, woman and child within reach of the road will visit the show, and extra trains, and very long ones, too, will be necessary to accommodate the people.

Baltimore Sun.

The Atlanta exposition may be said to have succeeded already, since it has so deeply impressed competent critics. Its best results must come, however, from the stimulus it gives to the industrial life of the southern people themselves. If it proves an efficient one, the era of wealth and power which seemed a century ago to be dawning upon them has now at length in reality arrived.

Correspondence New York World.

The whole section is less densely populated than any other part of the United States east of the Mississippi, except the inaccessible portions of Florida. Railroads are now passing from two directions. Within two years it will be open to the world. No part of the globe has greater attraction for emigration than this section affords the very first opportunity ever given to advertise these resources as well as to furnish a key to the investigation of the region. Doubtless men will flock to it, but other men will make them, and the day is not far off that the world will have so long predicted with confidence, when the section richest in resources will begin to be rich also in available wealth, in manufacture and, better than all, in the civilization of the people.

Correspondence Louisville Courier-Journal.

Governor Brown, of the Chicago Tribune, told me that he spent a month at the exposition, and was a careful and constant observer, and he now says, and will say when he goes home, that outside of the foreign exhibits, the art and horticultural departments, the International exhibition of the world, that there are not 20,000 people here every day."

Said Governor Hoyt: "A month could be well spent in sightseeing at this exposition." The opinion of the Connecticut men who came here with their governor—and they were a capital set of gentlemen—was one of surprise at the extent of the exhibits. They are going home and send back hundreds from the little nutmeg state.

St. Louis Republic.

The financial policy of the government has not tended to carry capital to the south. It has greatly aided to carry it to the north and east. The tariffs, fishing bounties, revenues and patronage have been so extended for fifty years, and to an overwhelming degree for twenty years, contributed to enrich the north and east, and to drain the south. It is not strange that there is a disparity of wealth in the south. Nor is it perhaps strange that this has bred arrogance and contempt for the south. The opinion of the world, the limit of development if not exhaustion in one quarter and expansion in another, these are influencing the course and destiny of population and production, and the expansion of manufacturing enterprise. The people of the south, with the love of property and the instinct of advancement peculiar to the Anglo-Saxon race, will adapt themselves to the moving current without any assistance to the contrary. It is not the fault of the south, but the opportunity which is necessary to counsel wisely.

The Power of the Press.

In no way is the power of the press more surely shown than in the universal knowledge that has in less than a year, been diffused throughout fifty millions of people of the wonderful curative properties of that splendid remedy, Kidney-Wort. And the people from the Atlantic to the Pacific have shown their intelligence and their knowledge of what is in the papers, by already making Kidney-Wort their household remedy for all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bowels.—Herald.

"How do you manage," said a lady to her friend, "to appear so happy all the time?" "I always have Parker's Ginger-Tonic," was the reply, "and thus keep myself and family in good health. When I am well I always feel good-natured." See other column.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

Rheumatism Neuralgia

Sprains, Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by the use of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER.

This remedy is not a cheap medicine or Patented product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

PAIN KILLER has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, IT NEVER FAILS. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Gady, Owatonna, Minn., says: "I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me no relief. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation."

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: "I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me no relief. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation."

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all. It will save many times its cost in doctor's bills. 25c, 50c, and $1.00 a bottle.

AFFAIRS IN GEORGIA.

AS REPORTED BY THE CONSTITUTION'S CORRESPONDENTS.

Court Matters in Lumpkin County—General Phil Cook and the Circuit—Atlanta Affairs—An Accidental Discharge of a Gun Wounds Three—Convicts—Threats from a Sucker.

DALLAS, November 2.—Colonel Frank Imboden arrived from Virginia with his bride on last Friday, and has returned this week to Virginia. In the case of Rice, the jury made a mistrial, and they were discharged Saturday night. This case has created some excitement here, and the facts about these: He belonged to a company of Confederate scouts in 1861, which were stationed here, and reported to General Reynolds at Athens, Ga. A squad of the company arrested a deserter, and it is charged that they killed the prisoner, as he was found dead on the same day. It is alleged that Rice was one of the squad. He was a private in the company.

REPUBLIC, November 3.—Hon. A. L. Brooks, of Macon county, state, one of the rising stars of this section, is in the city. He contemplates a removal to Elba, Coffee county, to practice law—a fine field. He will commence the publication next week of the Elba News, a new candidate for public favor and advancement. His infant child of Rev. Mr. Wamboldt's died in Jacksonville, Fla., on the 1st inst. He left for that place yesterday. The Baptists here didn't get Dr. Goodwin; he goes to Danville, Va.; nor did the Catholics, Father Ryan; they have Father Fullerton, and the former, nobody yet. They have a mind for Dr. Mitchell, of Griffin, or a Mr. Chalmers, of Kansas City, Mo.

ALABAMA, November 3.—The steambot Newton, having been lately overhauled and refitted with a new engine and machinery, is now making occasional trips between Albany and Newton, carrying freight and passengers. The Hon. Phil Cook, M. C., from the third district, is in the city. It is rumored he came down to satisfy himself about the time the circus would arrive. His many friends here were glad to see him, looking in such elegant trim for the approaching session. We learn that $13 per $1,000, was offered a party here yesterday for Confederate bonds.

CHARTERS, November 4.—On yesterday afternoon Dr. Charles H. Harris was thrown from his buggy, near the court square, from which he received painful but not serious injury. Two small children were in the buggy at the time, and were thrown to the ground but escaped hurt. The shoulder strap by which one of the convicts carried his gun broke this morning while the men were being put upon the cars to go to the work and his gun fell and in the fall the same was discharged, slightly wounding three of the convicts in their feet and legs.

What the Papers Say.—Waycross Reporter. The upland cotton crop of southern and southeast Georgia has been gathered, and is by all odds the best hand-picked and of preparation, that has been marketed from this section since the war, which is owing entirely to the favorable season, the greater portion of the crop never having had a drop of rain on it.

Walton News. I am at home once more, in my dear old country, where I expect to live and die. I write this hoping to turn any man who may think of going to Louisiana. I was persuaded to sell my home in Walton a year ago and go to Louisiana. I came back now homeless—a wiser man. If anybody wants to go there I beg you to come to see me and I will give you a fair description of the place. No one of the old Walton people is doing anything, all of them would come back if they could. If there is a hell on earth, Louisiana is the place. If you are in a bad fix here, you will be worse off if you stay here, and make the best you can of life, is my advice. My friends in Walton sent me money to bring my family back. I thank you all for your kindness. God may rule the world, but he has turned Louisiana over to the devil.

Macoon Telegraph. The fatal accident reported in Sunday's issue happened to Mr. J. W. Cook and not to Mr. J. W. Cooper, as we were informed and stated. The unfortunate young man, it seems, lost his life more in Walton a year ago and went to Louisiana. I came back now homeless—a wiser man. If anybody wants to go there I beg you to come to see me and I will give you a fair description of the place. No one of the old Walton people is doing anything, all of them would come back if they could. If there is a hell on earth, Louisiana is the place. Mr. Michael McCann, a well-known and popular manufacturer, of Syracuse, New York writes: "I felt generally debilitated and my health failing, and I longed for a tonic, and an iron constitution, that I might be able to do the many annoyances of ill-health. But dyspepsia and urinary troubles, attended by nervous prostration, had gotten hold of me, and I felt my time had come. Nothing seemed to give me any permanent relief. Finally I happened to see an advertisement of Brown's Iron Bitters. 'Bless me,' says I, 'that's just the medicine for me precisely.' And so it was. By the powers of God I feel better, and I feel all my troubles and given me a constitution of iron."

The first woman was very easily seduced, she married the first man she came across.

Mr. George Grove, of London, to whom the musical world is indebted for the cure of Schubert's symptoms, says he believes he has come upon the tracks of yet another.

Eminent Physicians are prescribing that tried and true remedy, Kidney-Wort, for the worst cases of biliousness and constipation, as well as for kidney complaints. There is scarcely a person to be found that will not be greatly benefited by a thorough course of Kidney-Wort every spring. If you feel one of your kidneys is out of order, try a package of Kidney-Wort and you will feel like a new creature.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

The electric light is creating a sensation by knocking over those who thought they were invulnerable. It is a fair to say that it is a great relief to the man who is fairly into the circuit he curls up and dies.

THE CONSTITUTION.

Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 5, 1881.

In the star route case where ignorance is bliss.

Hon. BOB INGLESON has apparently mistaken the star route investigation for a minstrel performance with himself as end man.

ABELINE PATI has arrived safely in New York. To-day the enterprising reporter will probably interview her about the $10-a-seat question.

INVESTIGATION, the first degree in the American Order of Diplomacy, was yesterday conferred, in Philadelphia, on Hon. Sackville West, the new British minister.

FLIPPER is before his court martial confronted by two sets of charges. He is graciously permitted to elect under which set he shall be drummed out of the army.

The Tennessee legislature is to convene soon in extra session to redistrict the state. This is a republican trick, from all appearances, and will result in some tall gerrymandering.

THE WHOLE STATE INTERESTED.

We are glad to see that the authorities of some other cities of Georgia, acting in accordance with a suggestion made by THE CONSTITUTION a week or two ago, are inviting the cotton manufacturers and others, brought to the state by our exposition, to visit their localities and see the advantages which they respectively offer for development and enterprise. This is sensible and right. It is much better than carping at Atlanta and trying to disparage the great exhibition which has been gathered here. We trust, too, that our exhibitors and visitors will accept these invitations. We assure them that they will find all over Georgia most inviting fields in which to "plant" their capital and energy. Our rivers and creeks abound with water power running wild and unappropriated, which, if properly utilized, would drive any desired amount of machinery. Nearly all the "stock" for manufacturing uses is to be found in the state and easily accessible. Of cotton we have even too great an abundance, and its culture now extends all over the state. Wool growing has already attained considerable proportions, especially in southern Georgia, and in some localities in the northern counties of the state, and is fast increasing, as its profit and the adaptability of our pasturage and climate is becoming better understood. The upper counties of the state abound in iron ore of every quality, besides lime and other minerals that can be profitably worked. We have some coal, and the rich coal beds of Alabama and Tennessee are near at hand and transportation cheap. Those of Alabama are unsurpassed in this or perhaps any other country, either in extent or quality. Fine marble is obtained in several counties, and in woods Georgia is unexcelled; her extensive pine forests for building purposes invite the woodman's axe, and her fine grained woods for furniture and ornamental work would supply any demand. To those who prefer to dig money directly from the ground, without dependence on "seed time and harvest" or manufacturing skill, our gold fields present alluring opportunities. With all these rich resources, only partially developed and in very small part appropriated, Georgia is as good a field as the country presents for the prospector and capitalist. It should all be seen by the men of enterprise and means who have come here to contribute to or visit the International cotton exposition. We have seen with admiration and wonder the intricate machinery and skillful processes which they employ in the production of their beautiful fabrics. Let them also see the richness of Georgia in natural facilities and raw material for their dextrous manipulation. This will the exposition be turned to the best account. Thus may the gathering of manufacturers and men of enterprise at the capital of Georgia be made of the most benefit naturally to the visitors and the visited. We trust that invitations for visits of inspection and interchange of civilities will come from all sections of the state, and will be accepted by the "solid" and enterprising men who have been or may be drawn to Georgia by the cotton exposition.

MORMONISM IN THE SOUTH.

Elder John Morgan, president of the southern mission of the Mormon church, was in Chattanooga last Wednesday, and stated to a correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer that in a few days he will leave for Colorado with more than one hundred and twenty-five converts to the Mormon church. The majority of these are from southern Virginia, and Elder Morgan says that his church has received over three hundred additions from that section during the past few months, all of whom will be duly forwarded to Colorado. In Elder Morgan's mission, which comprises all the southeastern states, about twenty elders are at work, and he says they are meeting with success.

When, some months ago, THE CONSTITUTION called attention to the nature and extent of the Mormon mission in the states and territories, particularly in the eastern, middle and southern states, a few of our esteemed contemporaries were disposed to treat the whole matter as a trifle sensational, but since the alarm was first sounded in these columns evidence has accumulated going to show that the work of the Mormon propaganda in northern Georgia and the surrounding section was grossly underrated. The Mormon conference, the advertisement of which first gave the public an inkling of the foothold which Mormonism has obtained in Georgia, was, as we are informed, intended as a blind—a mock conference, in fact—while the real conference was held in the mountains, and was largely attended. However this may be, it is certain that the emissaries of polygamy are meeting with extraordinary success in securing proselytes, and their work constitutes a crime which no law—certainly no state law—can reach.

The agitation of the matter by THE CONSTITUTION impelled the recent legislature to enact a law touching the advocacy of polygamy in Georgia, but, as we took occasion to point out at the time, the law is practically void since the Mormon propagandists find it convenient to conceal the festering basis of their organization from those whom they would "convert." Elder Morgan, the head-center of the lustful propaganda in Georgia, pretends to misunderstand the facts with respect to this law, as witness the following from the Deseret Evening News, the principal Mormon organ:

We learn from a letter written by Elder John Morgan, in charge of the southern states mission, that the anti-Mormon bill, introduced in the Georgia senate and which was reported by the papers to have passed the legislature, failed to become a law. The vote of 25 to 17, which it was said to have passed, was only the vote on its first reading. It was never called upon again.

The anti-Mormon fanatics may moderate their exultation a little. The measure was too extreme for a body of sane legislators to enact. It was also in strong antagonism to the constitutional guarantee of free speech, and was altogether anti-republican and unchristian. It then became the characteristics of all the plans devised by the "cranks" who want "Mormonism" suppressed by force or violence.

We are gratified to learn that the Georgian law-makers had better sense and more tolerance than to condemn themselves to an irrational and intolerant scheme in aid of sectarianism, which finds itself unable to meet "Mormonism" on fair grounds in the south.

If Elder Morgan will take advantage of his belief to preach polygamy in Georgia, he will soon discover whether the bill has become a law. We should like to see this champion of immorality put the law to a test. We are convinced, however, that no state law will be efficacious in putting down the propagandists, and we doubt whether a general law can be made effective. There can be no legal, peaceful contest between civilization on the one hand and organized indecency and bestiality on the other. Mormonism in this country will have to be put down by force, and the sooner this fact is recognized the better for all concerned. The Deseret News might as well ask us to meet incest or any other form of lust on "fair grounds." The people do not propose to meet Mormonism on fair grounds. They propose to put it down, and as soon as we have a government that really represents the people, the wretches who practice polygamy will feel its wrath.

It has been stated in some of the special dispatches sent from Atlanta that R. M. McPherson committed suicide "because his grandfather had disinherited him," and again "because his grandfather had written him a note repudiating him for being drunk. It is, no doubt, true that the unfortunate young man made these statements. But the same false delusion that caused him to pull the trigger against his temple, also led him to believe that his grandfather had written a note repudiating him for being drunk. Major Wallace had not written him at all, nor had he seen him or communicated with him in any way since his speech began, nor for days previous thereto. Major Wallace never, at any time, reproved him or spoke the least harshly to him, but he tenderly and kindly aided him in all the ways within his power, and his waywardness, trusting, as he said, in "the grace of God for his reformation." He knew that the unfortunate young man was dissipating, and kept a close inquiry after him that he might seize upon any opportunity to rescue him. To many persons it may seem reasonable that he might have "thrown off" or "repudiated" the wayward young man, but that is not his method, nor his disposition. Love and forbearance have always characterized him in his dealings with his children and grandchildren, and his means have always been at their disposal under any and all circumstances of misfortune. His reproaches have ever been the kindly encouraging smile and the word of cheer.

MORMONISM will have to sow ends when it reaches Georgia. In Virginia, it is based on an effort to repudiate an honest debt, but the Georgia Mahone will have to devote himself to legalizing a lot of bogus bonds. The people of the state paid for such a conflict.

The Hon. Sitting Bull announces that he was "created for a purpose." It appears that in chasing O. O. Howard about over the plains, Colonel Bull captured some of his Sunday school ammunition. People will begin to suspect after awhile that Howard has not lived in vain.

If the advice of the New York papers is followed, everybody on the face of the earth will immediately rush home and get registered.

The Hon. Susan B. Anthony has broken up a temperance union on the question of female suffrage. As we have previously remarked, the Hon. Susan is the Sitting Bull of the east.

The Courier-Journal can see Guitau's pardon in the future. And, indeed, it would be a questionable administration that failed to leniently regard its originator.

STATSMAN BLISS seems to have serious objections to the star route jobbers. Was it for this that the jobbers held the bugle-horn of stalwartism?

MR. BLAINE KNOWS Guitauism when he sees it, and he has seen it several times. He says the new administration will be Grant from top to bottom.

If a procession of cranks should be organized, with Guitau at the head, the most famous republicans in the country would fall naturally into line.

ANOTHER crank turned up at the capital yesterday, claiming to have been elected vice-president, and that David Davis had usurped his place. He gave his name as Thomas Jefferson, of the state of Ohio, and he has just resigned the declaration of independence. Being informed that the senate had adjourned, he said he would return to his home in the west, and he was accordingly escorted to the door.

THE NEW YORK creditors of Daniel Haas, dry-goods merchant of Charleston, S. C., have received a statement showing that his liabilities amount to $24,000, and that he has no assets. The assets are valued at $8,000. M. Isaacs has been chosen creditors' agent. H. B. Claffin & Co., who have been acting as liquidators, have just completed their work, and the estate is now being sold.

THE TERRA HAUTE EXPRESS says: A very large number of persons, who were at the depot last night, when the train from the north stopped, a lady alighted, and seeing a gentleman standing near her, she called out to him, "Hello, old fellow, how are you?" He ran toward him and throwing his arms about his neck, showered kisses upon him. The gentleman, who was a stranger, was much surprised, and said, "Ladies, have you made a mistake?" The lady replied, "No, I have not. I have known you for many years, and I have been waiting for you to come back to the depot last night. LOCAL TIN-TYPES

FROM OUR REPORTERS' POCKET CAMERAS.

Yesterday in the City—What was Done and Said by Those Who Took the Day—In and About the Courts and Departments.

CHURCH OF CHRIST—Repairs on the building having been completed, regular services will be held by the pastor of the Church of Christ to-morrow morning and evening. Sunday-school at 9:30 a. m.

MAY STAMPS—Chief Connelly is in receipt of a postal card from the postmaster at Kalamazoo, Michigan, offering a reward of $100 for the capture of a man who stole 50,000 three-cent stamps from that post-office, a few days ago.

KIDD'S WILL—The last will and testament of the late William Kidd was yesterday filed in the office of the ordinary of Fulton county and will be probated Monday next. The contents of the will are yet unknown, but it is generally understood that the estate is worth about $200,000 and that the bulk of it will leave Atlanta, although there are several handsome bequests to parties residing here. Among other legatees are two of Atlanta's charitable and public institutions.

ZETTEL—We clip the following complimentary notice from the "Richmond State": "Spiro Zetzel, the 'old reliable' Richmond caterer, has charge of the culinary department of the Grand Hotel at the Atlanta cotton exposition, and we know 'they have something good to eat.' Zetzel belongs by right to Richmond, and somehow things in the hotel kitchen line have been right since he left us. But it is always the case. We never appreciate a good man until we lose him."

WIDOW BEDOTT—Mr. C. B. Bishop, who is the new "Widow Bedott" at Haverty's theater, is a great improvement on Neil Burgess, who was his predecessor. Mr. Bishop makes a roundabout dance of the irrepressible "Frisella," who is infinitely funnier than the long, lank asetic creature exhibited by Burgess, although the latter conforms to the New England type. Mr. Bishop, too, is a better actor, and his by-play and facial contortion aid in keeping the audience in continual roar of laughter. This is the last week of the "Widow," and seats are scarce before 8 o'clock every night; so go early.—Star, January 3.

BENJAMIN—About daylight yesterday morning Captain Moss Bentley, the Broad street barber, who resides on the corner of Thurman and Mangrum streets, was awakened by the loud and fierce barking of his dog, and upon setting up to ascertain the cause, found the front door of his house open. This somewhat astonished him, and a hurried investigation of the place was made, whereby it was learned that a burglar had invaded the premises, and had gotten away with Bentley's watch and chain and a small amount of money. The watch chain was fastened in a button hole of the vest, and was released by cutting the button hole. An entrance was effected through the back door and an exit through the front door.

MINNIE PALMER—Another scorching night, yet another elegant audience attended the performance of "My Sweetheart," at the Academy of Music last evening. Miss Palmer's charming naturalness won her round after round of applause and two recalls before the curtain.—Buffalo Express, August 31.

WITH SMALL CAPITAL—Yesterday morning Mr. Alex Thwait, the assistant general ticket agent at the union depot, sold a gentleman two tickets to Texas, for which $20.00 was paid. The purchaser first asked for tickets to Palestine, but as the fare, which was $50.00, was more than he could pay, as he had but $49.00. Inquiry into the case developed the fact that the young man was the husband of a bride he had just stolen from her home in Monroe, Walton county, and that they were going to Texas to escape an irate father. The groom is 22 years of age, and the bride 35. He is not handsome, and she is not beautiful, but with only ten cents in their treasury they have gone to Texas to begin the life of blissful "doubletens."

Personal—J. B. Christy, of Baltimore, is at the Kimball.

J. C. Kirkpatrick, a Greenville, S. C., broker, was in town yesterday.

George W. Clotworthy, of Baltimore, arrived yesterday with a display of Daniel Miller's "Diamond shirt" for the exposition.

Miss Annie Berry, who has been visiting Miss Hornady at 172 Ivy street, left for her home yesterday.

John F. Henry and family, of Louisville, Ky., are visiting the exposition.

The Courts—SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA, Nov. 3.—List of cases showing the cases remaining undisposed of: Rome circuit, 17; Middle circuit, 3; Ocmulgee circuit, 8; Brunswick circuit, 5; Eastern circuit, 17; Northern circuit, Atlanta circuit, 46; county circuit.

No. 2. Argument concluded. Disqualification of Speer, J., suggested, and case set at heel of October circuit. Ga. Rome circuit, No. 7, continued case. Ga. So. R. R. vs. Bigelow. Case, from Floyd, Daniel S. Printup, for plaintiff in error. C. Rowell; Joel Branham, for defendant. Pending argument of Mr. Branham court adjourned until 9:30 a. m. to-morrow.

ATLANTA, GA., November 4. ROME CIRCUIT.

No. 7. Argument concluded. No. 10. Hill vs. Printup. Equity, from Floyd, Argued. Wright & Featherston, for plaintiff in error. R. S. Printup, for defendant.

No. 1. Huntington vs. Bonds. Trover, from Folk. Argued. J. A. Blance; E. N. Bowles, for plaintiff in error. Ivey F. Thompson, by brief, for defendant.

No. 2. Ware vs. State. Assault with intent to rape, from Floyd. Argued. J. H. Reese; Forsyth & Haskinson, for plaintiff in error. J. I. Wright, for state general; T. W. Alexander, for the state.

No. 3. Botten et al. vs. Bank of Empire State, to use, etc. Complaint, from Floyd. Argued. C. Rowell; J. Branham, for plaintiff in error. Dabney & Fouché, for defendant.

Court adjourned until 9:30 a. m. to-morrow.

THE SUPREME COURT.

Decisions Rendered October 4, 1881.—Continued. Wood et al., Executors vs. McCall. Trover, from Lee. Personality. Actions. Verdict. Damages.

Jackson, C. J.—I. Though a cotton screw may have been a chattel attached to the realty, yet if it was detached and carried away, an action of trover would lie; and the fact that it was reattached to the realty on another place did not defeat the right to bring trover therefor.

2. In a trover case the plaintiff may recover damages alone or the property and its hire, if any.

Judgment affirmed.

J. R. Worrell; Hawkins & Hawkins, for plaintiff in error.

Guerry & Son, for defendant.

Gillis vs. Smith, executor. Claim, from Stewart. Executions. Levy and Sale. Laws. Sheriff.

Jackson, C. J.—An execution against a sheriff should be directed to the coroner of the county of the sheriff's residence and to all and singular the sheriffs of the state except the sheriff of the county of such residence, and the same may be levied by the coroner, other sheriff or constable of the county, at the option of the plaintiff.

(a). The object of this provision is to prevent a defendant from handling a process against himself. While therefore a f. fa. directed to all and singular the sheriffs and coroners of this state was not in exact accord with the statute, the defendant having at its date been a sheriff, yet where it appeared that he had ceased to be a sheriff and that the f. fa. was levied by his successor, it substantially complied with the statute, and the court properly refused to dismiss the levy on motion.

Judgment affirmed.

R. F. Watts, for plaintiff in error.

T. D. Hightower; W. A. Little, for defendant.

Whitely vs. Alston et al. Ejectment, from Sumter. Practice in superior court. Parties. New trial. Verdict.

Jackson, C. J.—Where complaint for land was brought, and a recovery had against tenants in possession, the fact that their landlord, with their knowledge and acquiescence, employed counsel to move for a new trial, which was done in the name of the tenants, does not render the motion that of the landlord so as to make it illegal.

2. The grant of a new trial was right under the facts of this case.

Judgment affirmed.

Guerry & Son; Hawkins & Hawkins, for plaintiff in error.

R. P. Hollis, for defendants.

McLendon vs. Harrell, Case, from Webster. Sheriff's Officers. Actions. Damages.

Jackson, C. J.—If a sheriff violates his duty, and as a result is imprisoned for contempt, he cannot recover damages from another on the ground that he was induced to adopt such line of conduct by the false and fraudulent representations of the defendant and promises to protect him, and the false representation that a check given in payment for land bought at the sheriff's sale would be paid. To allow official misconduct to be the basis of a recovery against a conditor therein, however guilty the latter might be, would be contrary to public policy.

Judgment affirmed.

J. R. Worrell, for plaintiff in error.

Hawkins & Hawkins, for defendant.

Harvey vs. State. Arson, from Sumter. Continuance. New trial. Criminal law. Verdict.

Crawford, J.—1. That the defendant in a criminal case is excitable, whether from her state of health or otherwise, is not sufficient to require a continuance.

2. Where an indictment for arson charged that the house burned was the property of and in the possession of a certain person, and the proof showed the actual possession was held by the tenant of that person, there was no material variance.

Judgment affirmed.

N. A. Smith, for plaintiff in error.

C. B. Hudson, solicitor general, by W. A. Hawkins; Guerry & Son, for the state.

Bryan vs. Welch, Cook & Bacon. Equity, from Lee. Amendment. Practice in superior court.

Crawford, J.—After all matters in issue between the parties to an equity cause had been submitted to an auditor, a report had been made and exceptions filed and overruled, one of the parties could not amend his pleadings and carry the case to a jury on its merits.

Judgment reversed.

Guerry & Son; W. A. Hawkins, for plaintiff in error.

W. W. Warwick; A. H. Alfriend; J. P. D. Warren, by brief, for defendants.

Perry vs. Bozeman. Equity, from Terrell. New trial. Verdict. Debtor and creditor.

Crawford, J.—The verdict in this case is not supported by the evidence.

(a). Where there are several debts due by a debtor to the same creditor, if he makes payments without appropriating them to any special debt, the creditor may appropriate them to any debt which is due.

Judgment reversed.

C. B. Wooten; L. C. Hoyle, for plaintiff in error.

Guerry & Parks, for defendant.

Brady vs. Parker. Attachment, from Sumter. Evidence. Res geste.

Crawford, J.—The circumstances, acts and declarations which grow out of the main fact, are contemporaneous with it, and serve to illustrate it, are part of the res geste.

(a). The ground of attachment being that the defendant absconded, and on the trial of an issue formed thereon it having been shown that the defendant was absent from home when the attachment was sued out, it was competent to prove that in connection with his departure and just before it, he stated that he was going to Alabama after certain property, and sought to borrow money to pay his expenses there and back, and that he did return.

Judgment affirmed.

J. A. Ansley; Guerry & Son; Hawkins & Hawkins, for plaintiff in error.

John R. Worrell; E. G. Simmons, for defendant.

Bosworth vs. Thomas. Appeal from Sumter. Landlord and tenant. Contracts.

Crawford, J.—Where a tenant had been occupying a certain store, and at his instance and under his immediate supervision the landlord caused repairs to be made in the flooring, and thereupon the tenant rented for a term, agreeing that no repairs should be required of the landlord, if the floor subsequently gave way by reason of putting a heavy load upon it, there could be no set off from the rent on account of damages resulting from such accident.

Judgment affirmed.

Guerry & Son, for plaintiff in error.

Guerry & Son, for defendant.

Gunn vs. Fackett. Illegality, from Randolph. Officers. Levy and sale. Constables. Judgments. Justice Courts.

Crawford, J.—1. Where a constable was appointed by the wife, just as he directed to fill the vacancy caused by a failure to elect a constable, and the appointee accepted the position and habitually exercised the functions of the office, a levy made by him was not void, although he may not have given the bond and taken the oath provided by law before entering on the duties of his office. He was a de facto officer.

(a). That the justice who appointed him resigned and moved out of the county, did not alter the case.

2. There is no law requiring the signature of a justice of the peace to a judgment entered by him on his docket. A signature by initials did not, therefore, avoid such a judgment.

3. A mistake in one's favor is not a good ground of exception.

4. That a magistrate did not enter on his docket an itemized statement of the costs of a case, but entered judgment for a specified principal and interest, with costs of suit, did not invalidate the judgment.

Judgment reversed.

John T. Clarke & Son, for plaintiff in error.

W. C. Worrell; J. T. Fawcett; C. B. Wooten, for defendant.

All forms of impaired vitality, mental exhaustion, weakened digestion, etc., etc., radically removed by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

Very respectfully,
Rev. H. FERRER.

Charles Nordhoff and his two sons are traveling in southern California.

Winston, Forsyth county, N. C. Gents—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago. My cure has been wonderful. I am pastor of the First Methodist church of this place, and my whole congregation can testify to the great virtues of your bitters. Very respectfully,
Rev. H. FERRER.

Y. M. C. A. Meeting.

There will be a meeting for young men to-night at 7:30 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. hall, 49 1/2 Whitehall street. Lecture by W. A. Haygood. Young men and strangers are cordially invited.

Visitors at the City.

Miss Isabelle Rio and a few and accomplished daughter of South Carolina, has arrived from Charleston, and is the guest of Captain W. D. Ellis, on Rawson street.

Mr. O. Kai, of Japan, is in the city, with rooms at the Kimball house.

—Ton, J. G. Carlisle and wife, of Covington, Ky., are among the guests registered at the Kimball.

At the Kimball from Georgia.

J. M. Briscoe, Newnan; R. B. Jackson, Madison; R. H. Towers, J. P. Cooper, Rome; A. J. White, Milner; Miss Betty Thornton, Euclid; Miss Helen Gigniat, Marietta; J. M. N. al, Cartersville; H. W. Palmer, Savannah; C. C. D. Thomas, Athens; Thomas Warren Akin, Cartersville.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggists for "Rough on Rats." It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bed-bugs. 15 cents box.

Local Notes.

—W. G. Browne, Dentist, 33 1/2 Whitehall street, sep28—dtf.

The Nonstock silk company, of Cincinnati, has a fine advertisement now running in The Constitution. Their silks are famous and need no commendation from us.

From the large crowds we see registered at the Kimball house, it is presumed that Seville's management and popular rates of $2.50, $3 and $4 must be entirely satisfactory to the traveling public.

Citizens' Bank Stockholders.

original and subsequent are requested to meet at the Chamber of Commerce on next Monday at 3 o'clock p.m., and arrange for an investigation of the cause which led to the failure of that concern.

Personal.

—John W. McPherson, with Elam Johnson, wants the people to understand that he is not the man that killed himself at the Kimball house the other evening.

John Keely.

"THE LEADER OF LOW PRICES."
We beg to call the attention of our readers to Captain John Keely's notice in to-day's paper. The captain is certainly a versatile genius—at least so far as the various phases of business are concerned. He is a popular and a fortunate man. In Sunday's issue, he appeared as the proprietor of one of the largest stocks of regular goods ever offered in Atlanta. The day before yesterday he was appointed by the superior court receiver in the matter of a large failure. To-day he has opened an immense stock of cloaks, purchased from the assignee of a large cloak house in New York. People everywhere know that John Keely holds the cash at all times to take advantage of forced sales, and they also know that he has the pluck to purchase any sized stock they may have to offer, always provided that it is "dirt cheap." Now, the captain had an immense stock of cloaks on hand already, and they were bought cheap; but he could not resist the temptation to purchase this last lot, which he did by telegraph. He has "got 'em" now, and he says he will close them out "right off" at fearfully low prices. This is indeed a rare chance to purchase cloaks at fearfully reduced rates. Read the captain's notice, and give him a call.

BRIDAL GIFTS.

The E. Jaccard Jewelry Company, of St. Louis, has on exhibition and for sale at the Exposition in Art Hall, the most beautiful collection of Gems, Diamond and Gem Jewelry, Watches, Repousse Silver work, Bisque Ornaments, Real Bronzes, Japanese Curios, etc., that has ever been seen in the South. These goods are offered for sale here by this old house, which was founded in 1829, at the same prices as are charged by them in St. Louis. An opportunity is afforded to all who are contemplating the purchase of wedding, birthday, christening, anniversary or holiday gifts to procure them upon the most favorable terms. In addition to the above, orders will be received for wedding cards and invitations, visiting cards, menus, ball programmes, etc., which are executed by the Jaccard Jewelry Company in the most correct style. oct29—dtm 8thp
